

Pope Emeritus Benedict Calls Resignation 'a Duty' in Biography

Benedict XVI was the 7th king since popes became kings in the Lateran Agreement of 1929. Yahushua foretold that the 7th king “must continue a short space” (Revelation 17:10). The stunning truth is that Benedict XVI had no choice but to end His papacy, to fulfill Yah’s word. What is even more stunning is the fact that his papacy was ended by resignation and not death. In this way, the Father demonstrated His infinite power in bringing about the fulfillment of His Words. Now we live under the reign of Francis, who is the Eighth and last king. As we look at the world, we are shocked by the indifference of His people to this reality!!!
